

RespondPal

HIPAA-compliant review responses, built for healthcare practices

Your review responses may already be creating HIPAA exposure — most healthcare practices don't realize it until it's flagged.

A simple, well-meaning reply like "sorry about your visit" or "we haven't seen you since 2021" can confirm someone is a patient — a real HIPAA violation, even when nothing medical is discussed. RespondPal handles every response for you: AI-drafted specifically to avoid these patterns, reviewed by a human before anything posts, so this is never something your staff has to think about or get wrong.

This isn't hypothetical

Real cases: New Vision Dental (CA, $23,000), a North Carolina practice ($50,000), Manasa Health Center (NJ, $30,000) — all for review-response language that sounded completely normal to write. Most practices have no idea until it's pointed out.
